

Introduction

For the past years the Commissioner of Police has been providing a service known as the 'Blue Sticker'. This is a special permit that entitles persons with disability to park in special reserved bays. Furthermore, the police and wardens are urged to use prudence with persons who are in possession of such a sticker.

This sticker is provided to persons with a physical disability that impedes them from walking long distances. In particular situations, the blue sticker is also granted to persons with other types of disability, such as severe autism.

Disabled People who make use of this sticker must display it on a clear visible place on the car windscreen.

The Blue Sticker is also used in other countries and the European Union has issued a sticker that is common to all EU Countries. Malta will be conforming to this system in the near future. Police and wardens have been directed to recognise stickers issued in other countries.

The Local Councils, together with the Public Transport Authority, allocated various Reserved Parking Bays for disabled persons who are in possession of the Blue Sticker. To date a complete list of where such parking bays are situated had not been compiled. On the occasion of the European Year of People with Disability, the National Commission for People with Disability with the cooperation of the Local Councils and the publisher of 'The Maze' are publishing here the list of the locations of these bays. This publication will help disabled persons and their families to locate these parking areas. This list is also intended for tourists with disability who visit our country.

The Commission takes the opportunity to appeal to the general public not to park in such bays unless they are disabled and in possession of the Blue Sticker. Police and wardens are also encouraged to supervise that such bays are utilised by those who really need them. The disabled persons themselves are to make good use of this service.

We are also inviting all Local Councils to take the initiative and increase parking bays according to the increasing need.

The National Commission of People with Disabilities intends to help the Editor of 'The Maze' to keep this publication adjourned.

Hopefully such parking bays will be increased significantly.
